About us

CCW supports thousands of customers with complaints they have been unable to resolve directly with their water company.

In addition, we carry out research on a wide range of water issues and publish our findings to influence the future direction of the industry in a way that benefits consumers. Our regional committees in England, committee in Wales and team of Local Consumer Advocates represent consumer interests to a wide range of stakeholders, including Government, regulators and water companies.

Our history

- A non-departmental public body (NDPB) in England and a statutory body in Wales, sponsored by Defra and Welsh Government respectively.
- Established on 1 October 2005 under the Water Industry Act 1991 as amended by the Water Act 2003, to represent consumers of water and sewerage services in England and Wales.
- Replaced the WaterVoice committees, which were part of the industry economic regulator, Ofwat, to become an independent statutory consumer body.

Our vision and values

As we look ahead to 2020-23, we have a clear vision of what we aim to achieve on behalf of water consumers in England and Wales. This mission is supported by strategic ambitions and delivered through a series of key campaigns.

In addition, colleagues across CCW embrace a set of corporate values that embody the way we do business. Through our focus on personal development, diversity and inclusion, we want to make sure that CCW is a fun, energetic place to work where every colleague feels that their individual contribution is making a difference.

Making an application

Thank you for expressing an interest in the vacancy.

If you decide to submit an application it is important that you fully complete the application form (CVs cannot be considered on their own).

When completing the section on 'suitability for post' please ensure that you describe fully where and how your experience, skills and abilities meet each of the criteria listed, and the further information contained in the job description/person specification.

To ensure that we treat all applicants fairly, we do not make any assumptions about you. We only look at what you tell us on the application form. Remember you will be selected for interview based entirely on the content of your application form, so read the job description/person specification very carefully and match your information to it. This is crucial in enabling us to shortlist.

Please ensure that your application form is returned to the address shown on the application form by the closing date.

Application

Your completed application form should reach recruitment@ccwater.org.uk by the advertised closing date. Applications will not be accepted after this time, unless there are exceptional circumstances.

As well as completing the application form, we ask that you also return a completed equal opportunities form. Section two of this relates to the Guaranteed Interview Scheme. For further information on this please refer to page 10 of this document.

After the closing date, all applications will be considered carefully and those candidates who appear, from the information provided, to be the best suited for the post will be invited to interview. It is important, therefore, that your application form gives a full but concise description of the nature, extent and level of responsibilities you have held. The Selection Panel will recommend the candidate considered most suitable for appointment.

CCW is only able to respond to candidates who are invited to interview. If you do not hear from us within ten working days of the closing date, unfortunately your application will have been unsuccessful.

If you are successful, pre-employment enquiries will be carried out, to ensure that you are qualified for appointment.

When the enquiries are completed satisfactorily, a formal offer of appointment will be made. You will be expected to take up post as soon as possible.
